When it comes to the energy sector, the trends of decarbonisation, decentralisation and digitisation are fast emerging. Discuss. (Answer in 250 words)

15

~~Due to climate~~ Energy sector is seeing a transformation and revitalization, particularly in terms of decarbonization, decentralization and digitization.

I. Decarbonization

- ① focus on renewable energy has increased.
- ② Incentives are there for solar energy.
- ③ 'Just Energy Transition' partnerships have come up.
- ④ Many countries have pledged to 'phase down' of coal.
- ⑤ Alternatives to fossil fuels are being promoted.
- ⑥ Share of renewable energy in the energy mix has increased throughout the world. (eg India: 160 GW of RE out of 400 GW total)

- ⑦ Producers have 'renewable purchase obligations' (RPOs)
- ⑧ It is leading to lower Greenhouse gas emissions.
- ⑨ To fight climate change.

II. Decentralization

- ① Production of energy has been de-regulated by the National Electricity Policy.
- ② People are engaging in rooftop solar power generation
- ③ Solar fields are set up in remote areas.
- ④ Off-grid electricity is being promoted.
- ⑤ Farmers are being encouraged to become generators of energy (eg PM KUSUM)
- ⑥ Small scale energy units are coming up at various locations.
- ⑦ Government / large players are not having monopoly anymore.

III. Digitization

- ① There is a push towards Smart grids for digital control.
- ② Smart Meters are being encouraged for earlier monitoring.
- ③ Energy records are being maintained digitally.
- ④ Will help in matching load to demand.
- ⑤ Easier load-shedding.
- ⑥ Will optimize generation.
- ⑦ Will remove scope of errors and corruption.

Thus, decarbonization, decentralization and digitization will revitalize the energy sector and promote [SDG 7]. The [RAGIV RANJAN] committee on energy sector reforms can help further.

Discuss the challenges in mitigating chemical disasters in India. How can these challenges be addressed? (Answer in 250 words) 15

Chemical Disasters are often neglected disasters but can have far reaching impacts, (eg Bhopal Gas Tragedy 1984)

Challenges in mitigating chemical disasters in India

- ① Lack of awareness about the dangers associated.
- ② Residential colonies near chemical / industrial plants are vulnerable.
- ③ Gas leaks are often very difficult to trace.
- ④ Slow onset due to gradual chemical pollution (eg Radon)
- ⑤ Lack of strict enforcement of standards of chemical levels.
- ⑥ Inadequate safety protocols
- ⑦ Ineffective inspection.

- ⑧ High toxicity of chemicals in regular use (eg Pesticides)
- ⑨ Lack of research about various chemicals. ~~(eg)~~
- ⑩ Difficult to control a chemical disaster.
- ⑪ Chemical leaks and discharges happen very fast.
- ⑫ Indirect impact of air and water pollution.

How to address these challenges

- ① Revise the policy towards chemical disasters.
- ② Information dissemination about chemical dangers.
- ③ Research on toxicity of regular use chemicals.
- ④ Educating the masses.
- ⑤ Having evacuation routes and Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) in place.
- ⑥ Conducting regular safety audits of units dealing with chemicals.

- ⑦ Scientific treatment of waste chemicals.
- ⑧ Detection of chemical levels
(eg) Biosensors)
- ⑨ Tracking the slow discharge of gases/liquids.
- ⑩ Ensuring residences are far away from industrial units.
- ⑪ Counter-radiation methods and technology.
- ⑫ Strict limits on chemical quantities.
- ⑬ Capacity-building of NDRF and SDRF.
- ⑭ Medical facilities enhance for treatment.

Thus, chemical disasters must be prevented, so as to ensure

SDG 3 (good health) and to minimize damage to environment
(SDG 14 and 15).
